

Ndibmun Carl Nwana

Carl is a junior career level health care worker, with background training in medical laboratory science. He is also a Master's degree holder in Health Economics Policy and Management from the Catholic University of Cameroon, (CATUC) Bamenda and currently moving to study Masters in Statistics: Biostatistics in the University of Hasselt, Belgium.

He is currently working with Divine Empowerment Association in the North West Region of Cameroon, Bamenda where he is the Programs and Training Officer, whose aim is to educate and sensitize the public about Sickle Cell Anemia.

Carl has particular interest in research, systematic reviews, economic evaluations, knowledge translation to policy and recently by working with a prolific team of the G-I-N Africa community; he developed keen interest in guideline development, adaptation and implementation in Africa. Apart from being a member of the LMIC WG, he is also a member of the ADG WG. E-mail: ndicarl@yahoo.com or nwanacarl@gmail.com