

Resource file 2 List of training resources

Title	Description	Website	Cost
Cochrane Evidence Essentials	Modules cover: Evidence-based medicine, randomised controlled trials, introduction to systematic reviews, and understanding and using systematic reviews	https://training.cochrane.org/essentials	Free, login required
CUE - Consumers United for Evidence-based Healthcare	Multiple educational resources and free courses covering: evidence-based healthcare, FDA and the regulation of healthcare interventions and advisory panel engagement resources. There is a video covering consumer involvement in guideline development.	http://consumersunited.org/education&amp;training http://consumersunited.org/rrguideline	Free
EUPATI: Patient engagement through education	Toolkit of resources and a course on patient engagement and medicines research and development	https://eupati.eu/	Application process for course. Resources are free.

Title	Description	Website	Cost
Coursera	Coursera is a platform that hosts free and paid courses offered from reputable institutions around the world. There is a range of courses on research methods, statistics, and quantitative and qualitative research methods. Many other courses are offered that might be relevant to specific guideline topics, such as public health courses.	https://www.coursera.org/	Most courses are free, unless you want a certificate. There is a fee for specialisations, which are a series of courses.
Future Learn	Future Learn is similar to Coursera and offers courses from reputable institutions covering many aspects of healthcare and medicine, science, psychology and mental health topics that might be relevant for specific guideline groups.	https://www.futurelearn.com/	Courses are free for 6 weeks with the option to pay a fee to upgrade.

Title	Description	Website	Cost
Testing Treatments	A valuable resource on critically appraising treatment claims. The book is available for free in PDF and audiobook formats. The book is available in different languages. The website also includes an interactive toolkit of additional resources.	https://en.testingtreatments.org/	Free
The NICE glossary	NICE provides a glossary and definitions of the terms used in guidance development	https://www.nice.org.uk/glossary	Free
Bandolier	The website provides a free resource of journal articles related to evidence-based medicine. There is also a learning zone with free articles related to different aspects of trials, meta-analyses, statistics, guidelines and health economics. A glossary of terms is also provided.	http://www.bandolier.org.uk/ http://www.bandolier.org.uk/learnzone.html http://www.bandolier.org.uk/glossary.html	Free
HTA Glossary	A free glossary for members working in health technology assessments.	http://htaglossary.net/HomePage	Free